Editor Times-Democrat

DEAR SIR—I have been notified by several of my good friends that the report is circulated throughout the city that I am a member of the A. P. A. association, which I beg leave to state is your valuable paper, is false to the core, and furthermore that I am not and never was in sympathy with them.

Yours truly,

Friends Took Him.
An old farmer who was drunk, created considerable amusement on East North street yesterday afternoon. He got into a spring wagon belonging to a man from Bluffton and tried to drive away without unloading the horse. Policeman Jackson appeared on the scene and some of the drunken man's friends succeeded in getting him away.

CHEAPER TO MOVE THAN PAY RENT.

The Republican Club About to Desert Its Quarters

"It is cheaper to move than to pay our rent. Our landlord to keep from his dues we are about to move to some other place."

The Republican Club is in trouble. For the past year it has not been in very good odor. The two wings of the Republican party have both tried to run the club, and eternal family dissensions were the result. Those who are in position to know, say that a Kilkenney act fight was more harmonious than the war which occurred within the sacred precincts of the Republican Club whenever a meeting was held.

After the defeat of the Republican ticket last fall, the cohesive force of spoils and hope of spoils which held them together was gone, and the members uniting paying their dues. The bosses seeing no chance of getting any money with which to carry on business were seeking to remove the club from the Harper block to some less pretentious place, but the landlord refused to permit them to remove the goods until the rent was paid.

Some tall boasting is now being done by the self-constituted leaders of the club to prevent their bankruptcy from becoming known, but without success, and it now appears that the constable will soon have a cargo of what is left of the G. O. P. in Lima.

It is said the future meetings of the club will be held in the band stand, on the Tanner street bridge or in the Union street tunnel.

Variety, the Spice of Life.

There is nothing benefits mankind so much as change, even if it is only a change of linen. But what we mean to convey is that too much of any one thing becomes monotonous. The clerk, the housewife, his desk, seeks relaxation on his flying wheel, the policeman, on his feet for hours.

If finds relaxation in an easy chair by his own, or other friend's bedside, a man, burdened by a career of a wife seeks relaxation by tilting a can over his head, and as the beer disappears, he gives up consolation at his reflected countenance at the sight of the growler. Even at the theatre how many plays are monotonous when all on the one theme; how a bit of sentiment is relieved by a hearty laugh, a merry dance or comic song. And if variety is the spice of life, it teaches perfection in the great comedy "Life couldn't marry three."

How often do we hear people say, "Where in the world do all the flies come from?" It is simple enough. The toper uses the bottle fly, the farmer makes the house fly, the blacksmith makes the fire fly, the carpenter makes the saw fly, the driver makes the horse fly, the grocer makes the snail fly and the butcher makes the butter fly.

HELD.

Unable to Give Ten Thousand Dollars Bond.

Clara Walker is Remanded to Jail for Trial.

She is Charged With Murder in the Second Degree.

Positively Identified as Mrs. Clara Rice—The Dead Babe Also Recognized—Trial Set for September 4.

Clara Walker, the heartless murderer of her little babe, was arraigned before Judge Graham this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. She was accompanied by Sheriff O'Neill and her attorney W. B. Ritchie. After Judge Graham had read the indictment charging her with murder in the second degree, Attorney Ritchie answered "not guilty" for his client. Judge Graham then set the trial for the preliminary hearing for Monday, September 4th, at 10 o'clock, and required her to give bond in the sum of $10,000, which she was unable to give and she in default.

Courier Herrmann added another link to the solid chain of evidence which he is winding about the last trial murder at the moment, which was continued today, in the testimony of Mrs. Supple, Mrs. Ellen Hawley and Maggie Stanley, of Fort Wayne. It was at their home that Clara Walker, the cold-blooded murderer, had cared for her during her trouble she seemed shocked for a moment, and her cheeks flushed. After a few moments' deliberation, she called out, calling then by name. The prisoner did not move, and about the first question she asked of the outside she had left in Fort Wayne for repairs and to be paid. She wanted to give Mrs. Hawley the money she had for the work and sent it to her, but it was refused to have her for the time being, she refused to take it, and she had no objection to her writing to any one she wished. After remaining with the girl for a short time, the ladies took their departure from the room, and the prisoner completed their testimony.

THE REMAINS OF THE BABE.

The remains of the babe, it will be remembered, were embalmed, and the features were exceedingly preserved, so that the ladies had difficulty in recognizing them as those of the babe that was born at their home. After dinner they visited the county jail for the purpose of
